

RULES FOR ALL HISTORY DAY PROJECTS

The following rules apply to History Day projects in all categories. This is a summary from the National History Day Contest Rule Book. It is your responsibility to make sure your project follows all the History Day rules. Please read the rulebook for more information!

Project Creation

- I created my project this year. I have not reused any part of a previous project (mine or anyone else's).
- This is the only History Day project that I have created this year.
- This is a new topic. I have not done a History Day project on this topic before.
- I have credited the sources of all my information. I have not plagiarized.
- My topic connects to the History Day annual theme (Communication in History).
- I have researched, designed, and created the entry. The only help I got from other people was other group members or adults within reason (See NHD Rulebook).
- Groups: We all worked together on the project. All group members are listed with the project.

Counting Words in History Day Projects

There are size limits for projects in all History Day categories. The limit is usually a combination of words and/or time. Limits keep projects to a manageable size. Pay attention to the way words are counted. You will have to count the words in your project and accurately include this information with your project.

Required Written Materials (All Categories)
Item	Do the words count?	Explanation
Process paper	Yes	All the words in the process paper count toward the process paper's 500-word limit.
Title page and annotated bibliography	No	Words in the title page and annotated bibliography do not count.
Categories: How to Count Words
Item	How many words?	Explanation
December 7, 1941	One	A date counts as one word.
365 or forty-eight	One	A number counts as one word.
A cow jumped over the moon.	Six	Words such as "a," "the," and "of" count as one word each.
John Quincy Adams	Three	Each word in a name is counted individually.
mid-September or up-to-date	One	A hyphenated word counts as one word.
Eighteenth-century politics	Two	A hyphen is needed in "eighteenth-century" because it is a compound adjective. By contrast, "in the eighteenth century" is four words.
The category-specific rules have more information on what should be included in the total word count for your category.

Disqualification

Disqualification is when an entry is removed from competition. The contest coordinator is able to disqualify an entry for the following reasons related to academic integrity:

- Entering a project in multiple contests or entry categories within a contest year
- Reusing, individually or as a group, a project (or research from a project) from a previous year
- Plagiarizing
- Tampering with or removing any part of another entry during a competition

Rule infractions (such as going over the time, size, or word limit) may keep your entry from advancing. Rule infractions, however, are not grounds for disqualification from a competition.

RULES: WEBSITE

The following rules apply to History Day projects in the Website category. This is a summary of the National History Day Contest Rule Book. It is your responsibility to make sure your project follows all the History Day rules. Read the rulebook for more information!

You must use NHDWebCentral to create your Website

You must use NHDWebCentral (the NHD website editor) to create your site: nhd.org/nhdwebcentral.

Website is an original creation

Your Website is a reflection your research and analysis. You may receive reasonable help from others, but you must be the sole author. All the information you use from others must be attributed and cited. Failure to do so is plagiarism. For example:

- Another person may show you how to use the editor, but you must build yourself.
- Others may review your work and offer suggestions, but you must make any changes.

You may use professional photographs, graphics, video, recorded music, etc. within the web site. These items will help provide evidence to support your ideas, but should not overwhelm your ideas.

- Integrate these materials into the Website.
- Credit these materials within the Website and cite them in your annotated bibliography

Website can be no larger than 100 MB

NHDWebCentral will automatically limit the size of your Website. It can be no larger than 100 MB. Resize your files before uploading!

One page of your Website is the home page and connect to all other pages

All pages of your Website should be connected with navigational links. One page of the Website must be a home page and include:

- Your name(s)
- Entry title
- Division and category
- Number of visible, student-composed words in site
- Total length of multimedia
- Number of words in the process paper
- The main menu that directs viewers to the various sections of the site
- The home page must not include the name of your teacher or your school.

While not required, the home page is a great place to include your thesis. The thesis will count towards the word limit.

No more than three minutes media

Your site may have no more than 3 minutes total media.

- This can be audio, video, or both.
- You can divide this media up into smaller clips, as long as the total does not go over three minutes.

You may record quotes and primary source materials for dramatic effect, but you may not narrate your own compositions or other explanatory material.

Website contains no more than 1,200 visible, student-composed words

Counts to Limit

Text that you write, including captions, graphs, timelines, multimedia, etc.

Does Not Count

- Code used to build the site and alternate text tags on images
- Required source credits
- Recurring menus, titles, and navigation instructions
- Primary or secondary materials or quotes
- Required home page elements
- The annotated bibliography and process paper

Credits are in the Website for all quotes and visual sources

All quotes and visual sources (e.g., photographs, paintings, charts, graphs) must be credited on the Website and cited in your annotated bibliography.

- Source credits are brief - not the full bibliographic citation.
- A credit usually includes the title/name, date, and source.
- Your source credits do not count toward the word limit.
- Additional descriptive or analytical text in a caption will count towards a word limit.

Alice Paul, 1918, Library of Congress

No links to external websites

You may not use content that is hosted on an external website or link to external websites. You must remove the hyperlink from all URLs listed within your on-screen source credit. The only exception to this rule is to provide a link to a multimedia player, if needed.

Process paper and annotated bibliography within Website

The general NHD rules require a process paper and annotated bibliography with each project. In the Website category, these materials must be:

- Uploaded to the Website as PDF files
- Included in the navigational structure of Website
